THE SUBSCRIBERS, having taken the agency for the sale of Williams & Orvis Sewing Machines, respectfully invite the public to call at their salesroom and look at this Machine, which will be found equal to the most extensive sewing machine in the following particulars, and in some respects altogether superior:
1. In simplicity of construction and action.
2. In durability and non-liability to get out of order.
3. In the quality and amount of work they will do in a given time.
4. In the facility with which they will work on all kinds of fabrics, from the coarsest to the finest cloths and textures.
5. In the ease with which one can learn to use them.
6. In cheapness combined with excellence, and in the stillness with which they run, they are without a parallel.
7. Cotton, silk and linen can be used from the original spool.
Every Machine warranted.

REVELATIONS OF A SLAVE SMUG-GLER.
BEING the Autobiography of Capt Richard Drake, an African trader for fifty years from 1807 to 1857, during which period he was concerned in the transportation of half a million blacks from Africa to America. With a Preface by his Executive, Henry Brail West, of the Protest and Home Mission. Illustrations—Scenes on board of a slave vessel on the coast of Africa, 23 p. 14; Scene in the hold of a slave vessel, 16 p. 11; View of the interior of a slave, in three different sections, showing how slaves are packed, etc.—16 p. 11—all printed separately on sized and colored paper.
An intensely exciting book. Price only 25 cents. Those who wish to be posted on the horrors, atrocities, and enormities of the slave trade, must buy the Revelations of a

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS (Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries.
Gaveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE successful AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS:
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy was made for me THIR-TEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted; and that one is now pending. Such a record is a proof of great talent and ability, and it leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17th, 1857, to June 17th, 1858, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made, on twice rejected applications, SIX-TEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Jan 1 1859—ly R. H. EDDY.

NOTICE.
THE subscriber takes this method of informing his friends and the public generally, that he will continue to carry on the Plumbing Business in all its branches at Joseph Lyon's shop on Commercial Street.
He has a large assortment of pumps of the best quality for sale at cost, also lead pipe, sheet lead, and the usual articles kept by plumbers. [s] N. M. CHAFFEY.

TEAMING.
The subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally, that he continues to attend to teaming and will always be found on hand at the New York and Providence steamers, ready to convey goods to any part of the city on reasonable terms.
He will also pack and move Pianos with the most care.
All orders left at the office 163 Thames-st., or at his residence 35 Levis street, will be promptly attended to.

DR. MOTTS' CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion of Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:
In Debility, Nervous Affections,
Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Incurable Gonorrhoea, Scrophulous Tuberculosis, Scurvy, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fever, Plagues on the Face, &c.

In Cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation could render credible. Invalids of long bedriddenness to have become vigorous in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land.
Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to all and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxide, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of constiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the cure of all cases, including the attendant Constiveness.
In unchecked Diarrhoea, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emaciat-ing, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.
In the local pain, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the fever, comforted the patient, and in several cases of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrophulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the modest effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too consistently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.
In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 60 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed down, and bowed her head over the grave, as if she could through the solid earth behold her little boy, whose smile she remembered so vividly. The affectionate expression of his eyes, even upon his sick bed, was never, never to be forgotten. How speaking had not his glance been when she had bent over him, and taken the little hand he was himself too weak to raise. As she had sat by his couch, so now she sat by his grave; but here her tears might flow freely over the sod that covered him.

WIDE AWAKES, ATTEND!

Wide Awakes will attend at the Hall, on Thames Street, at 6 o'clock, promptly, in uniform, for the Excursion to Fort Mifflin Grove, as the boat will leave the wharf at 7, precisely. Every man is expected to be punctual.

Per order,
R. R. HAZARD, Jr., Pres't.

THE DEPARTURE OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.

The future King of England, has left the United States. His journey through our country has been little less than one continuous triumphal procession. The attentions that have been shown him, are evidences of the attachment which the people of this country possess for England, and these evidences will be treasured up, and will aid in cementing and preserving the bonds of friendship now existing between the two countries, which, improved machinery and enlarging commerce are daily bringing into close connection. There is little that is remarkable in the person, or character, of the stripling who has left us, to win upon the affections, and to demand the respect which has been showered upon him. He is the first born son of the Queen of England, but there is much in that country with which he is so intimately connected to challenge our attention and to demand our admiration. England, was the home of our ancestors. Its history, its traditions, its language, its laws, and its glories, are our birthrights. America, is the emancipated offspring of England, and its achievements, acquisitions and even our glories, belong to that Anglo Saxon race of men, which has done so much to subdue the stubborn elements of nature and advance the cause of civilization. We cannot but believe that favorable results will be realized to this country from the visit of the Prince of Wales, he has had an opportunity to learn something of us, enough we hope, to dissipate the prejudice which most of his countrymen have entertained against us.

DEMOCRATIC FRIENDSHIP FOR THE LABORING MEN.

The Republican party are in favor of protecting labor by imposing discriminating duties upon imports, to the end, that the laborer may receive a more liberal reward for his toil than is now afforded. The democrats propose to benefit labor by bringing, and keeping it in immediate competition with foreign labor. This question therefore, is an important one for the consideration of the laboring man. It is an important one because it affects his means of support, and the means of providing for his family. The Democratic party tried, not only to impair the value of the poor-man's labor, but they oppose the passage of the free Homestead Bill, which provided that the man who bore fide settles upon the public land in the West shall have a free Homestead, more than this the Democrats seek to degrade the free white laboring men to the condition of the negro slaves at the South. Yet they claim to be the friend of the laboring men, and by these misrepresentations contrive to get a large number of the votes of this class of our fellow citizens.

The New York Herald says: "The late overwhelming resources of the anti-Republican elements of this State have been frittered away, and it would surprise neither the Douglas engineers, nor the Breckinridge leaders, nor the Bell-Everett managers, if Lincoln's majority in New York should prove the sagacity of Mr. Seward's calculations."

WIDE AWAKE POLITICS.

Senator Hammond and Secession.—The fact that Senator Hammond of South Carolina has definitely announced himself as a candidate for re-election to the United States does not look as if he anticipates a secession of Southern States. It was upon the belief that that gentleman would not again be a candidate, that several South Carolina politicians have been so forward with their ultra sectional manifestoes.

I am satisfied, from information lately received that there is scarcely any disunion feeling in Virginia or North Carolina. The questions put to Mr. Douglas at Norfolk were thrust at Senator Hunter, a few evenings since, at Petersburg, when he answered that he was opposed to a dissolution upon the mere apprehension of danger. At the first speech of Mr. Pryor in his district, he denounced the idea that the mere election of a Republican was cause for disunion.

Wide Awakes.—The result of the recent elections in the North has had the effect to work an entire change in the relations of the various parties in the Southern States. One month ago, there was a strong probability that the Union party would succeed in dividing the Southern Electoral vote with Mr. Breckinridge; but the overwhelming defeat of the Bell-Douglas coalition in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana has created an absolute stampede from both the Bell and Douglas parties, to the Breckinridge wing of the Democracy, the design being to give the Southern Electoral vote as a unit to Mr. Breckinridge.

Any change for the better.—A Kentucky paper consoles itself for the political prospects of the country by saying: "Lincoln cannot—it is not in the compass of human nature—for any mortal to make a messier President than we have now and must endure until the 4th of March next. It may be that James Buchanan, O. P. F., was visited upon this people, to remind them of their follies, their short-comings, and their sins, and to prepare their minds to bear other great calamities with becoming fortitude. He is not only helping to elect Lincoln, but he is unconsciously preparing the way to make his administration endurable to the people."

Republican in Virginia.—In 1856, Virginia polled 291 Republican votes. It is supposed that there will be several thousands at this election. Ohio county, which includes Wheeling, will probably have 900. There are three Wide Awake clubs in Wheeling, and these have had several torch-light processions, in which they were much abused by rowdies. The Republicans bear it patiently, but if their enemies only knew it, this is the very way to make them thrive. A continuance of this persecuting policy would give the Republicans a majority in a few years.

Philadelphia Pennsylvanian.—An administration paper, asks if it is true that Judge Douglas goes south as an abolition emissary?

An old Jackson man's reasons for going for Lincoln—"let. He was opposed to secession, and so am I. 2d. He was opposed to nullification, and so am I. 3d. He was opposed to the slave trade, and so am I. 4th. He was opposed to the extension of slavery, and so am I. 5th. He was opposed to nationalizing slavery, and so am I."

A correspondent of the New York Herald.—not a partial judge, certainly, says that while Lincoln is far from being a handsome man, he is much better looking than some of the Democratic orators who have been abusing his features.

Gon. Curtis will probably address the Republicans of Rhode Island on Friday, the 26th inst., unless the state of his health should be such as to render it imprudent for him to make his proposed visit.

Mr. Brady said in a speech at Birmingham last week: "I have no idea that the mere election of Mr. Lincoln would be regarded by the south as a cause for secession, and clearly it should not be so considered."

A LITTLE DIFFERENT.—We lately copied from the World a paragraph in which it was stated that Mrs. Gov. Morgan was in early life a milliner's apprentice. The Hartford Courant remarks: "It would have been nothing to the discredit of Mrs. Morgan if she had, as the World states, earned her living as a milliner's apprentice; but the fact is, that Miss Waterman, now Mrs. Morgan, never had occasion to earn her livelihood as a poor girl, her father being a Hartford merchant, in comfortable circumstances, during her youth; and certainly her cousin, E. D. Morgan, whom she married, was amply able to support her."

(From the N. Y. Tribune.)
The Episcopal Church and Slavery.
To the Editor of the N. Y. Tribune.

Sir: In the Tribune of the 10th inst., I notice a communication on the subject of the late Episcopal Convention and the slave-trade, signed, "A Member of said Convention."

This writer seems very fearful that the result of the Convention to say that the slave-trade was wrong, will be construed in a manner injurious to the reputation of the members of that body.

In this view of your correspondent I fully concur. But when he so emphatically declares that "nine-tenths of the members of the Convention are as much opposed to the illegal traffic, as Mr. Jay, or any Abolitionist in the land," I must be permitted to say, that until I see better evidence of the fact, than the feeling of that body indicated in its treatment of the subject, I shall be impelled to a contrary conclusion.

Many, very many, members of the late Convention have declared that so far from the enslaving of the African being a crime, it is doing him a great kindness; that he is better off in slavery than in freedom; and finally, that there is nothing to be found in the Old or New Testament, or in the practice of the early Church to condemn slavery. Now, it appears to me that gentlemen holding such opinions could not very heartily condemn the slave-trade, other than its being a breach of the laws of the land. Just upon the same principle the same men condemn the breach of the Fugitive Slave law. Again, the Church, from her earliest commencement in this country down to this day, have not, by word or act, in the slightest degree borne testimony against slavery—no, not even against the enslaving of her own members! On the contrary, she has not uniformly taken to her bosom he who buys, sells, and holds in slavery his fellow man; she nourishes him with her Holy Sacraments through life; she shrives him in the hour of death, and in Christian burial "commits his body to the ground, looking for the resurrection of the last day and the life of the world to come." Truly, American churchmen must look upon the slave-trade with "great horror!"

ONE OF THE MINORITY.
Brooklyn, Oct. 16, 1860.

Father Giovanni.—Garibaldi's soldier monk, displayed great courage at the battle of Melazzo. Unarmed, only bearing the cross, he ran along the banks, cheering and animating the volunteers to the fight, constantly shouting to them, "Fear not! God is on our side! Mark, I, his minister, am the foremost to expose myself to the grape-shot and the volley of musketry—yet I remain unscathed. Charge, Italians, charge!" And still, as he shouted, he waved aloft the cross. Setting them this example, and repeating aloud passages from the scriptures, he cheered on the soldiers—to some purpose it must be owned—as by their indomitable courage they carried the strong position of Melazzo.

The Career of a Defaulter.—Ex-Postmaster Isaac V. Fowler, of New York, the man who supplied his political and other friends with money, belonging to the government, is still enjoying himself at Havana, if we may believe correspondents at that place. The career of this defaulter, which was at one time brilliant, is not likely to be terminated in a manner to form a model wherewith to adorn the annals of history. His sympathizing friends in New York, it is said, have actually agreed to place him in charge of some valuable gold works in Mexico. Their faith in his honorable intentions must be great. Perhaps, at some future day, Fowler, in the character of the Mexican millionaire, will visit the Empire city—save his bondsmen from ruin, and as a reward for his misfortune in the Post-office business, be appointed manager of the sub-treasury. Everything is possible in New York.

To encourage or sympathize with such men as Fowler, is neither more or less than to offer a premium for dishonesty. It is a matter of very little moment in the eye of the law, whether the defaulter was the victim of designing friends, or whether he was an intentional knave from pecuniary and selfish motives. In either case the crime deserved its fixed punishment, and it is disgraceful to the age to see such atrocious conduct, paralleled and defended by men claiming to hold the rank of honest and reputable merchants and citizens.

Tooth Picks.—The N. Y. Commercial thus tells where most of those destructive little implements, tooth picks, which help to give Americans their reputation for poor teeth, are made. It is a curious item: "A New Englander will produce a tooth pick with his knife from almost everything except a bar of iron, but with all his inventive genius it has remained for the natives of Chili to supply this tooth picking nation with a large proportion of the instruments for gratifying their habit or necessity. The aged and decrepid and the youth of both sexes of Chili are engaged in preparing those little orange sticks that one finds at every restaurant and hotel in the city and country. These they whittle out with astonishing rapidity, at the rate of five or six hundred in an hour. The sticks are packed in bundles of a thousand each, and sent to this city; being imported expressly by a lady in Division street, whose son superintends their manufacture in Chili. Here the tooth picks are sold for twenty cents a thousand and scattered all over the country, placed in all the restaurants and hotels, and in the hands of every tooth-picking Yankee in the kingdom. A restaurant with a good run of custom will consume about twenty thousand tooth picks in three weeks."

A Woman's Answer.—A writer, illustrating the fact that some errors are lifted into importance by efforts to refute them, when they need to be treated with contempt and ridicule, observes that all the blows inflicted by the Hercules club of certain logicians are not half so effectual as a box on the ear of a celebrated atheist by the hand of some charming beauty.

After having in vain preached to a circle of ladies, he attempted to avenge himself by saying: "Pardon my error, ladies. I did not imagine that in a house where wit lives with grace, I alone should have the honor of not believing in God."

Dr. Clark's Sherry Wine Bitters.—The N. Y. Commercial thus tells where most of those destructive little implements, tooth picks, which help to give Americans their reputation for poor teeth, are made. They Give it Up.—We understand that one of the leading men of the Douglas party, and another who stands equally high in the Breckinridge party, admitted in New York, a few days since, that the game was up, Mr. Lincoln being sure of an election to the presidency. Mr. Yancy made a similar admission while in this city last week. —Boston Traveller.

BENEDICT ARNOLD.—Extracts published in the Historical Magazine, from the private journal of Nathaniel Cutting, of Mass., who served abroad in a diplomatic capacity after the Revolutionary war, show the character of Benedict Arnold in a more revolting light than ever. Mr. Cutting formed in Lisbon the acquaintance of Mr. Maitre, British Consul at Tangier, who informed him that in 1786, when Arnold was residing in England, he urged him importunately, to aid him to procure Corsair commissions, through his influence at the Court of Morocco, intending to use them in piracy upon American commerce.

A FRIEND IN NEED, TRY IT!
DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT, the great external remedy of the age, prepared from the recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the celebrated "father of the living man." It is a certain and immediate cure for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, sprains, bruises, cuts, wounds, sores, burns, scalds, piles, lumbago, headache, toothache, and all rheumatic and nervous disorders; external injuries, &c. All sufferers should give it a trial. See advertisement.

CAUTION TO MARRIED OR SINGLE LADIES.

On account of the deception used by pretenders to the sale of medicines for the cure of females, it is requisite for ladies to use a caution in the purchase of them. Taking this view of the case, Dr. Cudworth, No. 3 Orange street, Providence R. I., offers his medicine to the public as the best ever used for females. His Drops and Pills for Suppression or Irregularities, are unsurpassed by any offered to the public. They have never failed in one single case, and can be warranted to perform perfect and permanent cures in the most obstinate cases. His medicines for all other complaints, also stand prominent for their success in curing all who use them.

In the treatment of those complain peculiar to females Dr. C. acknowledges no superior, and in all cases will warrant a perfect cure from disease or trouble. Ladies seeking medical assistance will do well to consult Dr. Cudworth, No. 3 Orange street, before calling elsewhere.

N. B.—Ladies can consult Dr. C. by letter, stating symptoms, by addressing as above, and have medicines sent secure from observation.

STEAMER CITY OF WASHINGTON OFF CAPE RAOC.

St. John, N. F., Oct. 23.—Steamship City of Washington, from Liverpool 10th and Queenstown 11th, for New York, passed Cape Race at 7 o'clock p. m. today, where she was intercepted by the news yacht of the Associated Press. Her dates are four days later than those previously received.

The details of the battle at Volturno have been published. After a bloody struggle the Neapolitans were driven back in disorder to Capua. Their losses were estimated at 800 killed and wounded, besides 3000 prisoners.

Garibaldi lost from 1200 to 2000 men. There has been no new movements since by the Garibaldians.

Affairs in the Papal State remain unchanged.

The Neapolitans, estimated at 30,000 strong, attacked the Garibaldians on the 1st, under the cover of a thick mist and carried some positions, and for a time succeeded in driving back the Garibaldians, whose numbers did not reach half theirs. Garibaldi went forward, revolver in hand, cheering on his men; and after a desperate fight of eight hours' duration, the ranks of the Neapolitans were broken and routed, and they were pursued close under the walls of Capua.

A brigade of Germans was cut off from the main body of the Neapolitan army, and driven to the mountains.

The Garibaldians took 5000 prisoners, and it was estimated that the Neapolitans had 3000 killed and wounded.

The Royalists subsequently made a sortie from Capua to the scene of the German Brigade, but were repulsed.

The King of Naples and his brothers were present at the battle.

Rumors were current that Capua had surrendered, and that the bombardment of the town was progressing, but neither had been confirmed.

The line of the Volturno was still strongly protected and it was said the Neapolitans were prepared to defend their positions.

Some Sardinian troops assisted the Garibaldians in the battle.

Garibaldi had called on the King of Sardinia to go to Naples and to send him 14,000 men immediately.

The Piedmontese troops had entered the Neapolitan territory.

It was reported that three of the great Powers had protested against the entry of the Sardinians into Naples.

Mazzini had quit Naples by request of the Provincial Dictator.

Advices from the Papal States indicate no change in the state of affairs there.
